

NHBG Privacy Policy

The data we hold about members - your name, address, phone and email contacts are only used for communications about the group's activities and administration, either by post or email. As you are paid-up members, we have been advised that this falls under the heading of "legitimate interest"

We will never release any of your data to anyone else - even other members - without your express permission.

We will restrict communications with you to the group's activities and administration.

If you are unhappy with this policy or decide to leave the NHBG at any point, let us know and your data will be deleted and we will not contact you again.
